Landing Page

A landing page is a standalone web page, created specifically for a marketing or advertising campaign.

Usually only accessible through digital ads or direct links

Designed to direct visitors to a single call-to-action without distractions

The only clickable item should be the CTA - all CTAs should be the same

Landing Page

Landing pages focus on conversions.

Conversion can be in multiple forms, the first one you are likely to think of is purchases. Such as buying a product from an ad.

There are other forms of conversion such as informative landing pages, where the goal is to raise awareness of the company, making a reservation or signing up for a newsletter.

Landing Page

Your landing page should answer 3 questions

What are you offering?

Why should I pick you out of anyone else?

What do you want me to do?

Display Ads + Post Conversion

Display Advert

You should create a mockup of a display advert, students that do best usually create a final-product colour design.

But you are allowed to draw a rough sketch of what you'd want it to look like

NO MARKS will be allocated for students who just verbally state what their advert will look like

Post-Conversion Communication

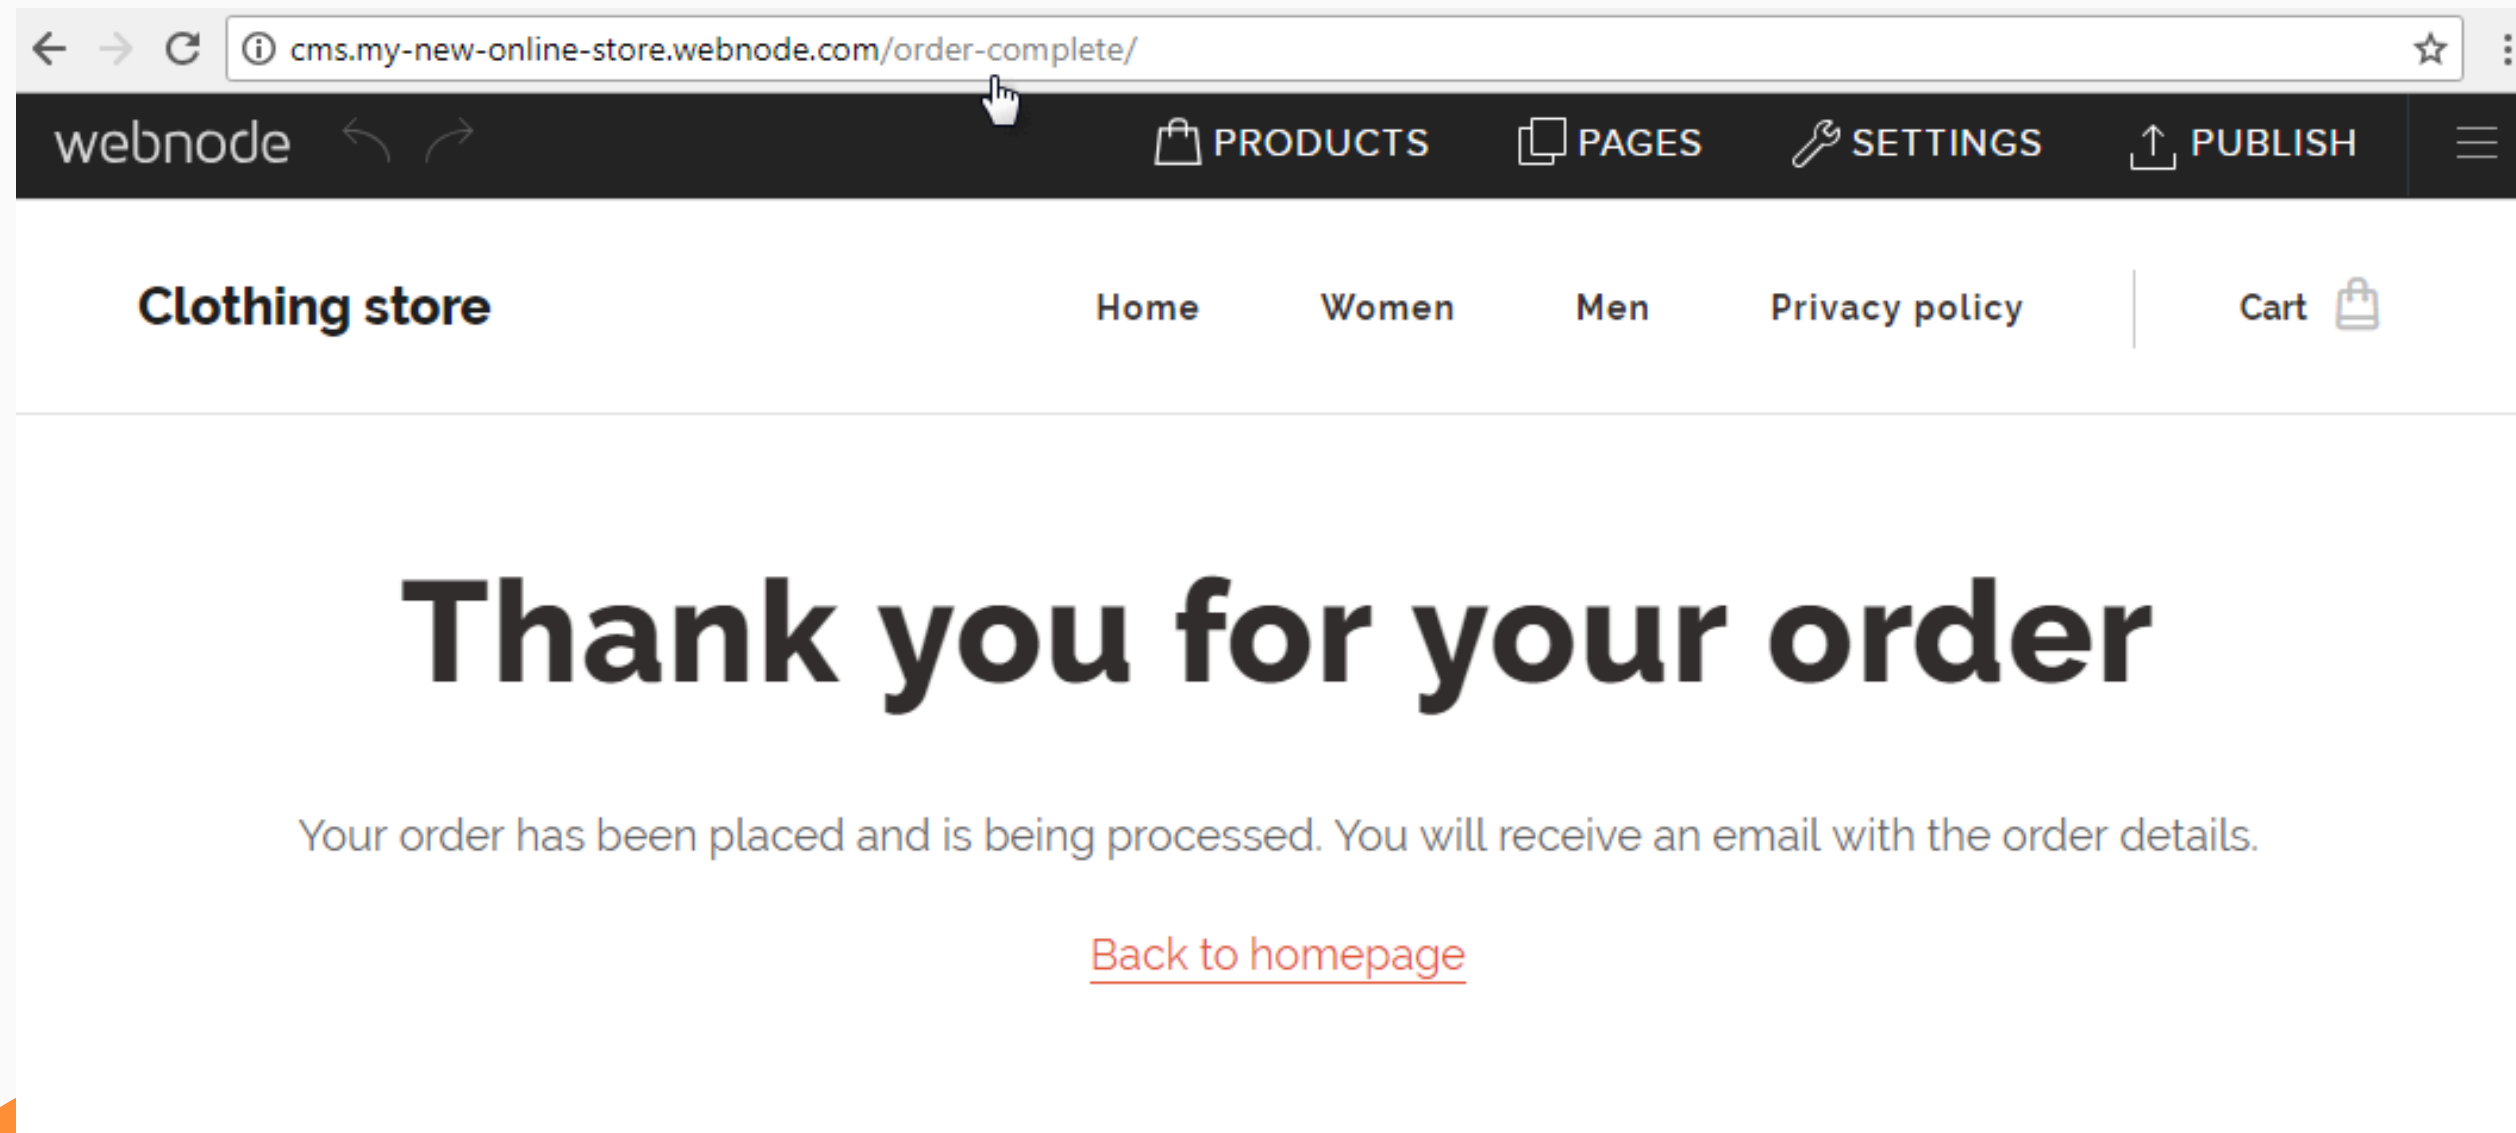

Post-Conversion allows consumers to trust a business and have faith in their transactions.

You will need to create a confirmation email/pop-up notification or message that thanks the consumer for finishing a conversion.

You should also include a CTA in the hopes they complete another conversion

Post Conversion

Landing Page Elements

Covered in more detail next week

Landing Page Elements

Your landing page should have all of these

Unique value proposition

- main headline, subhead, reinforcement statement, closing argument

Hero Shot

- best photo or graphical image, video, context-of-use

Benefits

- benefit and feature descriptions

Social Proof

- other people used /consumed/ purchased/ participated)
- third-party endorsements

Call to action (CTA)

- the ultimate purpose of the page

Activity

For the rest of the session you will work as a group to create a quick Digital Marketing Plan for one of the products/services to the left, OR whichever product/service you want to do for your assignment

During this time feel free to ask any questions you may have about the assignment or the rocketspark platform.
